

Work job with motivation

Motivated work is the drive of employees to perform their tasks and responsibilities with enthusiasm. It is a fundamental factor for employees to feel fulfilled and aligned with the company's values. Work motivation can be intrinsic or extrinsic.

Intrinsic Motivation Personal satisfaction, fulfillment, enjoyment of the task or position, desire to excel, achievement of personal goals.

Extrinsic motivation Recognition, Rewards, Economic benefits, Economic incentives, Professional growth opportunities.

Work motivation is important because:

Increases productivity, creativity and innovative ideas

Improves employee health and quality of life

Reduces errors and absenteeism

Improves customer satisfaction

Increased attraction of talent

To motivate employees, companies can:

Offer financial incentives

Provide training and professional development

Recognize work, such as promotions or opportunities for autonomy

Improve working conditions

CREATE A GOOD WORKING ENVIRONMENT

Work motivation: tips, methods and strategies

What is work motivation? Work motivation refers to a company's ability to motivate its employees to maintain, improve, develop

Work motivation: what is it, strategies

Work motivation: what is it and how is it.

Extrinsic Motivation: Extrinsic work motivation is that which is imp

Translated with DeepL.com (free version)

